

“help for a day” field guide

Ponheary Ly Foundation

Thank you for your interest
in the PLF
“help for a day”
program.

$260

This event is possible Monday-Friday

Your Activity:

Angkor Centre for Conservation and Biodiversity

The Angkor Centre for Conservations and Biodiversity (ACCB) offers an active learning environment for Cambodian children as part of their Environmental Education Program. Students can explore a wide variety of subjects including endangered species, wildlife rescue, and conservation.

Itinerary:

DEPART: 6.30am. From Siem Reap.

Travel by bus to the school where you will pick up approximately 20 students and their teacher before traveling on to the Centre.

Watch the students participate in an hour long lesson, then join them on the animal enclosure walk.

Lunch all together at a nearby Khmer restaurant

RETURN: 4pm. Students to the school and yourself to Siem Reap.

Thank you in advance for wanting to “help for a day”!

For more information or to book your excursion please email: volunteer@plf.org.

Helpful Tips

- Cambodians are conservative and dress modestly. Shorts are acceptable but should be knee-length and shoulders covered. Mini skirts, tank tops and low-cut tops are not acceptable attire in the countryside.
- Please be punctual.
- During your “help for a day” experience you will be considered a member of the PLF team; please be respectful to the Khmer teachers and set a good example for the students at all times.
- There is no smoking on school grounds.
- Mobile phones should not be used in the classroom.
- Please do not buy anything or give money to children on the street or temples. Many children are rented out by their parents for a pittance and are controlled by an overseer. We encourage you not to support or sustain child labor and exploitation.
- The PLF can provide tax receipts for participants from the USA, Canada and the UK.

About the Ponheary Ly Foundation

Our goal is to locate and serve the many children in Cambodia living in the poorest rural villages who do not have access to equitable educational opportunities.

The Ponheary Ly Foundation relies solely on private donations and support. Together with the tireless work of local and international volunteers, your gifts are significantly improving the futures of these children by giving them access to meaningful education. The Ponheary Ly Foundation is a registered organization in the USA, Canada and the UK.

Make secure recurring or one-time donations on our website(s) or mail us a check. We will put your dollars to work. The right way.
